

Network Clustering Hypothesis Testing

Junwei Lu

Harvard University

E-mail: junweilu@hsph.harvard.edu

Abstract: We propose a general framework to infer the clustering hypothesis based on stochastic block model. We build a likelihood ratio type of statistic and use symmetry property to clusters to infer the structure. We show our test is honest and powerful. We also establish the lower bound of general clustering testing problem.